Security Awareness Training

For all seafarers, STCW Table A-VI/6-1 (SAT-01/01)

Duration	6 hours (1 day)
Fee	Contact admissions
Certificate	Certificate of Proficiency, Security Awareness (KMA-approved)
Entry	Open entry
Next intake	Enrolling now. Call admissions to confirm the next start date.

Course overview

Security Awareness Training is required for every seafarer on a ship subject to the ISPS Code. It follows IMO Model Course 3.27 (2023 edition) and the KMA curriculum SAT-01/01.

The course takes 6 hours: 5 hours online across four short modules, then a 60-minute facilitated classroom session.

It trains awareness and reporting. Seafarers with designated security duties need the separate Table A-VI/6-2 course as well.

Syllabus outline

1. Heightened security awareness	The ISPS Code, security levels and what changes at each.
2. Recognising security risks and threats	Piracy, armed robbery, stowaways, smuggling, and suspicious items and behaviour.
3. Maintaining vigilance	Reporting procedures, drills and exercises, and your role in the ship security plan.

Entry requirements

- Open entry: no prerequisites
- Able to read and answer written questions in English

Assessment and certification

- Online quizzes (pass mark 70 percent).
- Classroom practical, marked competent or not yet competent.
- Written paper, then certification.

Career outcomes

- Required on all ISPS Code ships
- Port facility and terminal staff
- Cruise and passenger vessel crews

Security Awareness Training

For all seafarers, STCW Table A-VI/6-1 (SAT-01/01)

How to apply

Apply online at kimarce.com/admissions, call +254 790 141470 or +254 733 920250, email info.kimarce@gmail.com, or visit us at Korando Peninsular, off New Airport–Busia Road, Kisumu, Kenya. KIMARCE is approved by the Kenya Maritime Authority and registered by TVETA (TVETA/PRIVATE/TVC/0123/2016).